ACADEMICS

Mr. Foraker and Mr. Nesbit point out the many unique architectural characteristics of the Smith-Hale Junior High School.

District to Build a

Tom Foraker, Superintendent of Schools

The School Board, led by President A. A. McElroy, was again faced with the ever present problem of a school housing shortage. This year, however, the problem was complicated by the plumbers strike, which slowed the construction of the Smith-Hale Junior High School until none of the school facilities could be utilized during the 1967-68 school year. Consequently, both Ervin and Baptiste Junior High School faced unusually crowded conditions.

Consolidated District #1 received $304,661 in aid as a result of the form 874 Federal Aid cards. This money enabled us to finish the Smith-Hale Junior High School, and to begin construction of the new secondary school, Hickman Mills High School.

Joseph Nesbit, Assistant Superintendent of Schools

The daily hustle and bustle required to keep such a large school district functioning properly is easily hidden by the stately facade of the Administration Building.

Conferring with parents is but one of Mr. Lawrence's many duties.

During a summer session Mrs. Skinner and Mr. Steck discuss future yearbook plans.

Another Administrator at RHS

One of the most important administrative changes at Ruskin this year was the addition of a second assistant principal, David Cattle. In charge of student attendance, Mr. Cattle is gaining experience for the position he will hold when Mr. Lawrence becomes principal of the new Hickman Mills High School. Before coming to Ruskin, Mr.

Cattle was principal of Higginsville, Missouri, High School. Previous to this he was the assistant principal at a junior high school in Granite City, Illinois, and taught mathematics for six years at Center High School, in Kansas City, Missouri.

Seniors, eager to begin their last year, are enrolled by Mr. Lawrence, Mr. Steck, Mr. Cattle, and Mr. Malotte.

Mr. Steck is an attentive observer at a Ruskin-Truman Cross-Country meet.

Checking his schedule, Mr. Amick fills out an appointment slip.

As a new Home-School Co-ordinator, Raymond Malotte, joined the staff, replacing Lee Adcox who requested a leave of absence to work on his degree.

Seven Ruskin seniors were cited for outstanding scores of the 1967-68 National Merit Scholarship Corporation test, with five winning Semi-finalists rating and earning letters of commendation. Grades, accomplishments, leadership qualities, extra-curricular activities and school citizenship were evaluated with the test scores in selecting Merit Scholarship winners.

Mrs. Langford, College Counselor, as president of the Missouri Association of College Admissions Counselors, attended three different state and national conferences during September and October. She was elected the Missouri high school representative to the National Board, the governing assembly of the National Association of College Admissions Counselors. Mrs. Langford, who has been in this school system 23 years, spent her summer touring Expo '67.

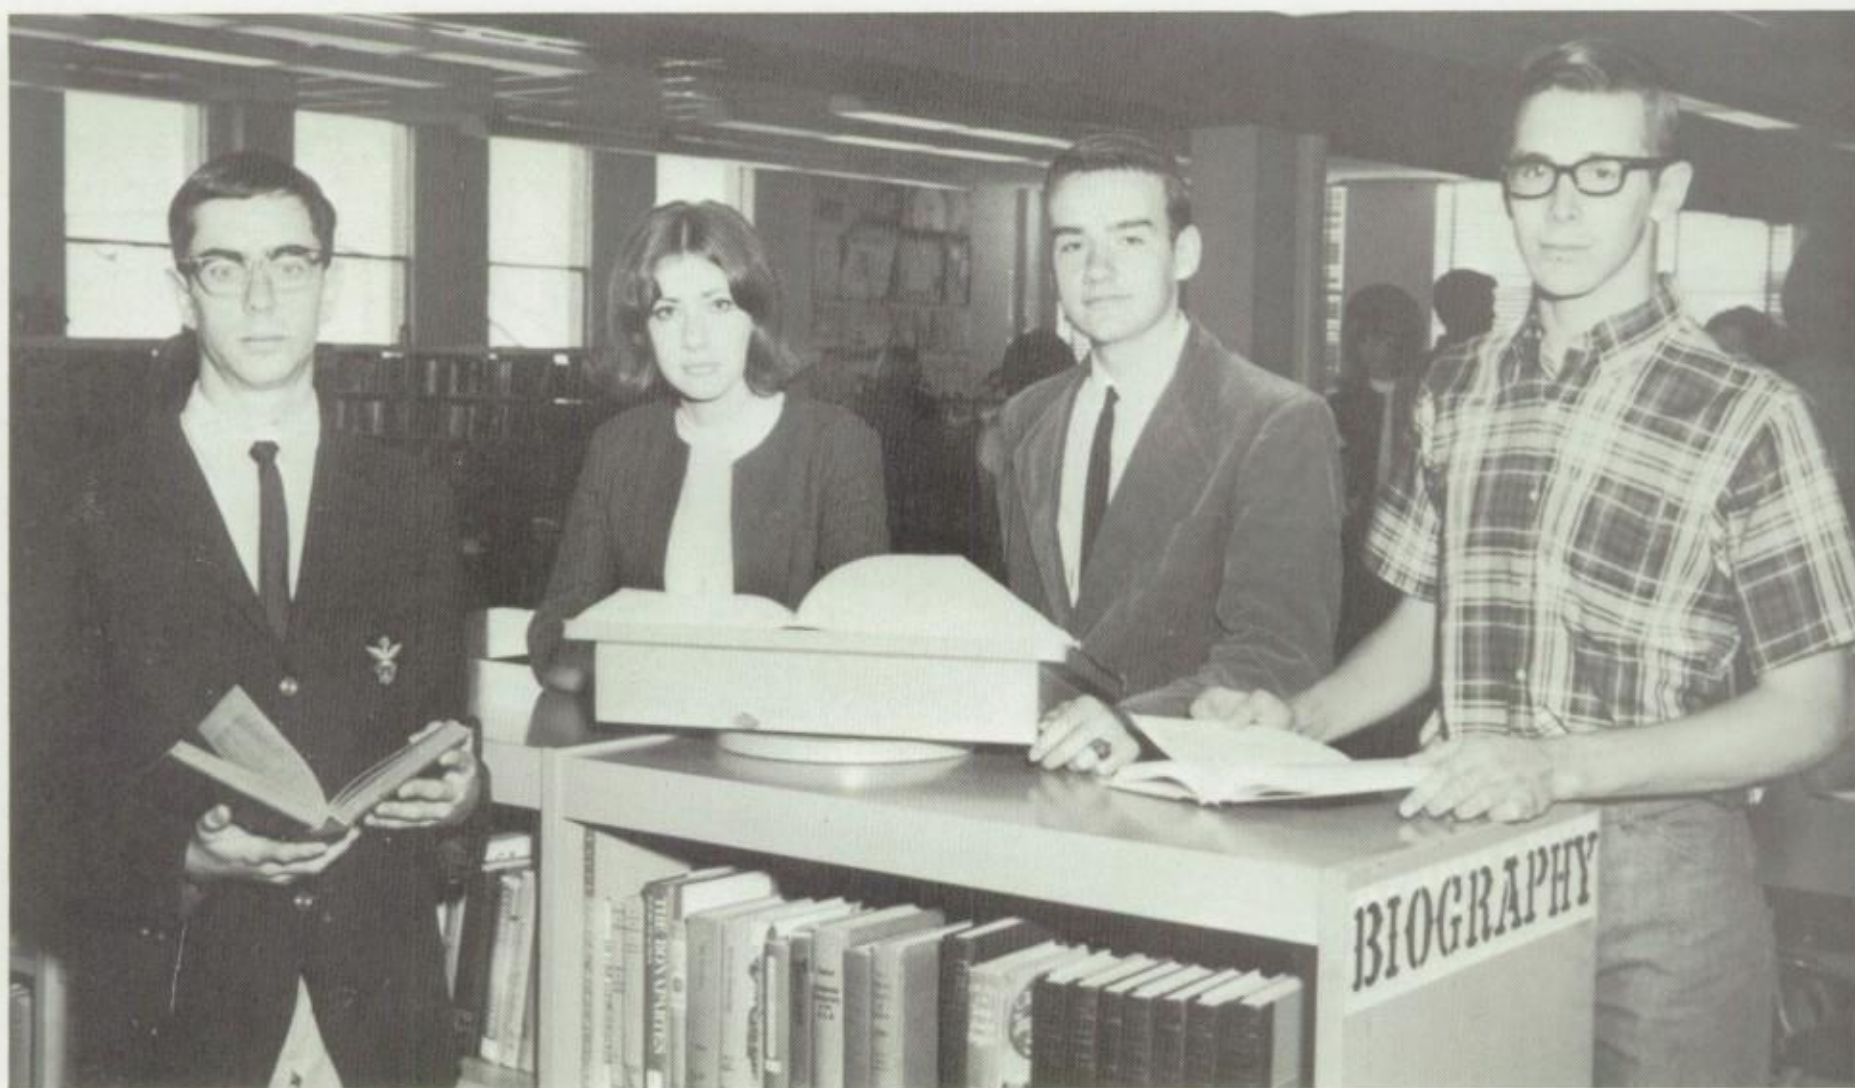

Mr. Hoskins served as president of the Community Teachers Association during 1967-68. His summer activities included teaching American History at summer school, and working on his 160 acre farm.

Mr. Johnston, president of Kansas City Suburban Counselors Association, taught English at summer school and Psychology in the Adult Education night classes here at RHS. He has been in the district twelve years.

Mr. Amick, a sponsor of the Student Council, has been in Consolidated District No. 1 for five years.

Guy Carter for the first time held the new position of Director of Personnel. He is in charge of securing personnel by visiting colleges and trying to attract people to this district. Neale Sievers, former principal of Truman Elementary School, is now holding Mr. Carter's previous position as Director of Special Services. Dorothy Wright, R.N., the nurse at Ruskin, is sponsor of the Medical Careers Club for the fifth year. David DeHelms is again in charge of curriculum. His responsibility has grown with the additional adult education offerings at Ruskin. With the great increase of enrollment in the district, Wally Harmon, Director of Food Services, had to plan meals for an increasing number. The Building of Smith-Hale Junior High has added additional building and grounds duties for Robert Sharp and his staff.

Keeping up with the constant growth of Consolidated District #1, Paul Province, Business Administrator, oversees the myriad business records necessary in our district.

For the sixth year Marcella Gowler has been a secretary at Ruskin. This year is starting Dorothea Gfeller's fourth year at Ruskin. After a year's absence to take a course in Professional Cake Decorating, Dorothy Daugherty is back for her second year at Ruskin. Jane Leavens of the Central Office also serves as Secretary to the School Board.

This is Ann Abarr's sixth year, Eldora Miller's seventh year, Corrine Miller's third year and Shirley Perkin's second year at Ruskin.

Dorinda Padgett, Secretary to Directors of Curriculum and Special Services; Bobbie Garrison, Receptionist and Secretary to Director of Buildings and Grounds; Janey Tull, Census.

To the library facilities this year have been added: an 8mm single concept loop film projector—it teaches one concept. Each reel lasts about four minutes and can be used by individual students or in the classroom; in the card catalog color banded cards have been added for reference to different kinds of audio-visual material. For the first time there are large pictures available for teachers to use in decorating their classrooms. There are now over 14,500 books in the Ruskin Library; over 1000 were added in September.

Ruskin's custodians and cooks, had their hands full during '68 with the increased enrollment. Around the clock service by the maintenance department kept the building clean and safe. Student cooperation in disposing of trash in the plastic tubs made the custodian's cafeteria patrol easier.

The cook's biggest challenge was preparing lunches that were different and nourishing. Extra food was sold in the serving line.

Students strive for accuracy and speed, two major factors considered in timed writings.

Keys Snap as Ruskinites Think and Work Steadily

The use of diagrams comes in handy as beginning typists learn correct procedures.

The business courses provided for Ruskin students are available, not only for those interested in a career featuring office skills and a knowledge of business practices, but for all students interested in self-improvement.

Business courses offered are: General Business, Business Arithmetic and Law, Typing, Clerical Practice I, II, Shorthand, and Secretarial Practice.

Mrs. Maupin, teaching typing and shorthand, received her M.S. in Education at Central Missouri State. Outside the classroom, Mrs. Maupin devotes time as sponsor of the National Honor Society. She has taught in this school district for thirteen years.

Ruskin's typing program is manned by several typing teachers. Miss Travis earned a B.S. at Pittsburg State and a M.S. at U.M.K.C. She has taught at Ruskin eleven years and is known for her great sense of humor. Mrs. Lister earned an M.S. in Education at Central Missouri State. She has taught at Ruskin for six years. Mrs. Hamann teaches typing and General Business. She earned a B.S. in Education at the University of Missouri.

Returning Staff Welcomes New Business Teacher

In deep thought, Ben Siverwright concentrates on Mr. Wrisinger's explanation.

Success in the Business Department requires that a student have manual dexterity. As the student's knowledge of the business world grows, they have an opportunity to examine the specific vocations open to business students.

Teaching Business Law and Arithmetic, Typing I, and Clerical Practice I, Mrs. Daughtery is a new teacher at Ruskin this year. She earned a B.A. at Avila College. Her interests are reading and sewing. Mrs. Daughtery previously taught at St. Teresa's Academy.

Mrs. Hornecker teaches Business Law and Arithmetic and Bookkeeping. She earned a B.S. in education at Northwest Missouri State. She is treasurer for RATAP and her favorite hobby is ceramics. Mrs. Hornecker has been teaching at Ruskin for four years.

Mr. Boone teaches Bookkeeping I-II. He earned an M.S. in education at Central Missouri State. He has taught nine years in this school system.

Diane Brucks displays perseverance and concentration as she learns the basic fundamentals of the calculator in Clerical Practice I.

Attention to assignments is necessary for efficiency in business classes.

Clerical Room Added to Meet Increased Enrollment

During her summer tour along the Icefield Highway, Mrs. Skinner took time to visit Banff National Park in Alberta, Canada.

Necessary business machines, spacious classrooms, and new equipment gave a boost to Ruskin's business department. Students were able to get professional training in secretarial skills, bookkeeping, and merchandising.

Creative Writing, Secretarial Practice, and Clerical Practice I-II are taught by Mr. Wrisinger who earned an M.S. at the University of Missouri at Kansas City. He has taught in this school district for twenty years and sponsors the Hi-Light. Mrs. Skinner instructs classes in Clerical Practice I and Publications. She has an M.S. in education at Central Missouri State College and is working on a specialist degree from that college. She has taken journalism classes at the University of Minnesota. Mrs. Skinner teaches evening classes for the Metropolitan Junior College.

Mr. Alley and Mr. Willis are the Distributive Education, Marketing and Merchandising teachers. Mr. Willis has earned an M.A. from N.E.M.S. in Kirksville. This is Mr. Willis' first year in this school district. He has previously taught at Excelsior Springs.

Math Students Participate in Science Fair

Mr. Frazier illustrates a problem on the board for the benefit of his students.

Mr. Frazier, who joined the math department this past year, completed his fourth year in the district. He coached the sophomore football team and hunted and fished in his spare time.

During the summer, Mr. Hoskin earned six additional hours at a National Science Foundation Institute at Rockhurst College.

The sponsor of the math club, Mr. Rankin, enjoys literature, music, and the French language. He participated as a student in the Warrensburg summer school program.

While completing his fifth year in the district, Mr. Clark helped coach the wrestling teams. His hobbies are hunting and fishing.

Mrs. Skaggs, co-sponsor of the National Honor Society, taught her ninth year in the district. During the summer, she went to New Orleans, where she stayed in the French Quarter.

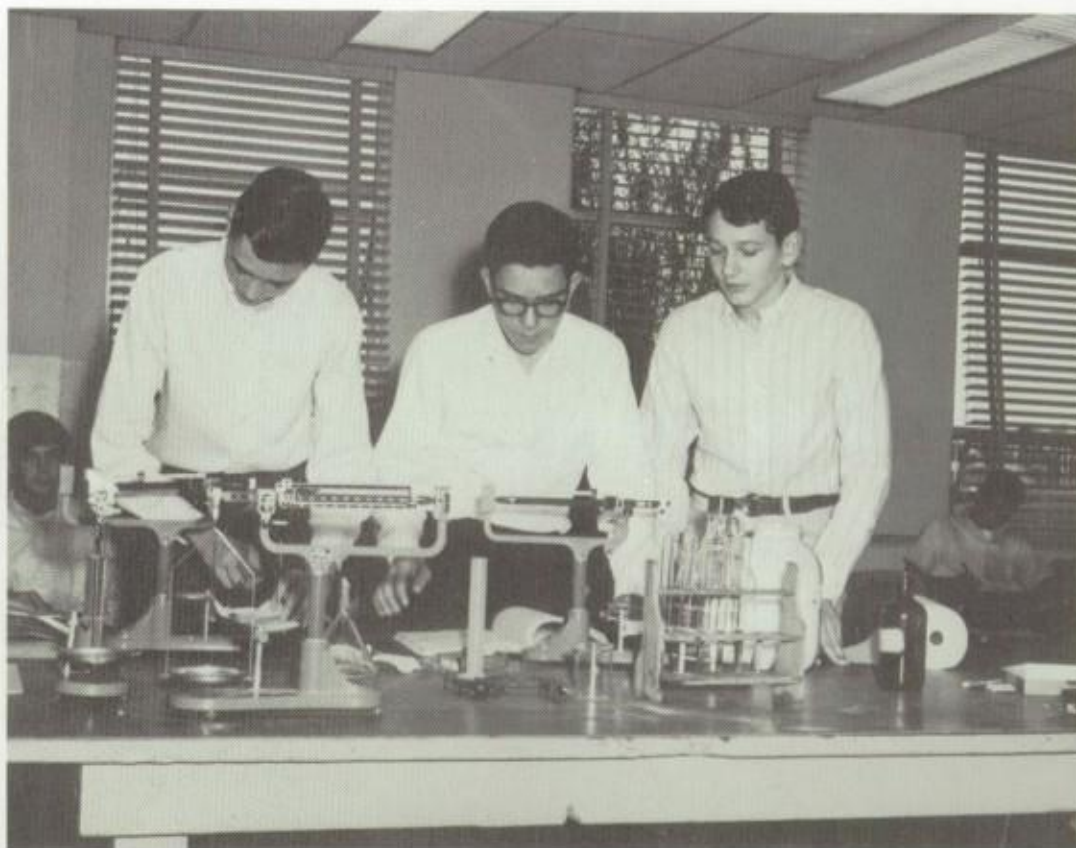

Mr. Hamman spent his summer teaching math here at Ruskin.

Students who took math were required to make a math project for the science fair. When asked what she thought about the idea, Mrs. Skaggs said, "It's tough for them to make one, with their limited background of math."

Because of increased interest of students in the math program, two sections of senior math were offered instead of one.

While studying microbiology, Cherie Nugen and Jim Rayburn made good use of their microscope.

Chemistry students, Mike Floyd, Larry Finley, and Bob Gandy, discover that exact balancing of weights is a long and tedious task.

Ruskin Science Curriculum Covers 7 Fields

Opening of the 1967-68 school year brought enthusiasm, and enrollment in the Ruskin Science Department reached an all time high. Good representation at the annual science fair was a result of this increased enthusiasm.

Biology courses were instructed by Mr. Ray, Mr. Lewis, and Mrs. Payne. Besides sponsoring the Science Club, Mr. Ray is chairman of the C. T. A. Insurance Committee. Teaching at Ruskin for eight years, Mr. Ray has given new insight to many students concerning science. Science, guns, and sports are among Mr. Lewis's many varied interests. For five years Mr. Lewis has taught science and been a coach of the sophomore football team. Mrs. Payne has completed two years of teaching at Ruskin. She enjoys outdoor sports, especially canoeing.

Mr. Maupin's attendance in night classes at the National Science Institute gave him additional information to relate to his chemistry and physical science classes. He has taught here for twelve years and also sponsored the science club.

Offering courses in major scientific fields, the science department strives to provide students with an opportunity to go beyond normal classwork. Through experimentation and study, students became more aware of the elements of science.

Physiology and health classes have been taught by Mr. Glynn for seven years. During the summer he works as a ceiling specialist and painter. During Mr. Houser's first year at Ruskin, he taught electricity and was assistant wrestling coach.

The photographer catches Mr. Mallory in an unsuspecting moment as he adds to his lecture notes.

The Social Studies Department is one of the largest departments at Ruskin, not only in the many courses offered, but also in the number of students enrolled in these courses.

Sociology and Economics, both one semester courses, are taught by Mr. Mallory. The students use a textbook which is used by several colleges in Missouri. Mr. Mallory also teaches Family Relations.

Mr. Partridge has been the varsity football coach for three years. He teaches Family Relations and Physical Education.

Mr. Suddarth teaches Psychology and Family Relations. He is the assistant basketball coach and coach of baseball, a new sport which was introduced at Ruskin this year.

Mr. Swift teaches Family Relations. He enjoys music and sports and coaches the varsity basketball and golf.

Social Sciences Pursue Complex Relationships

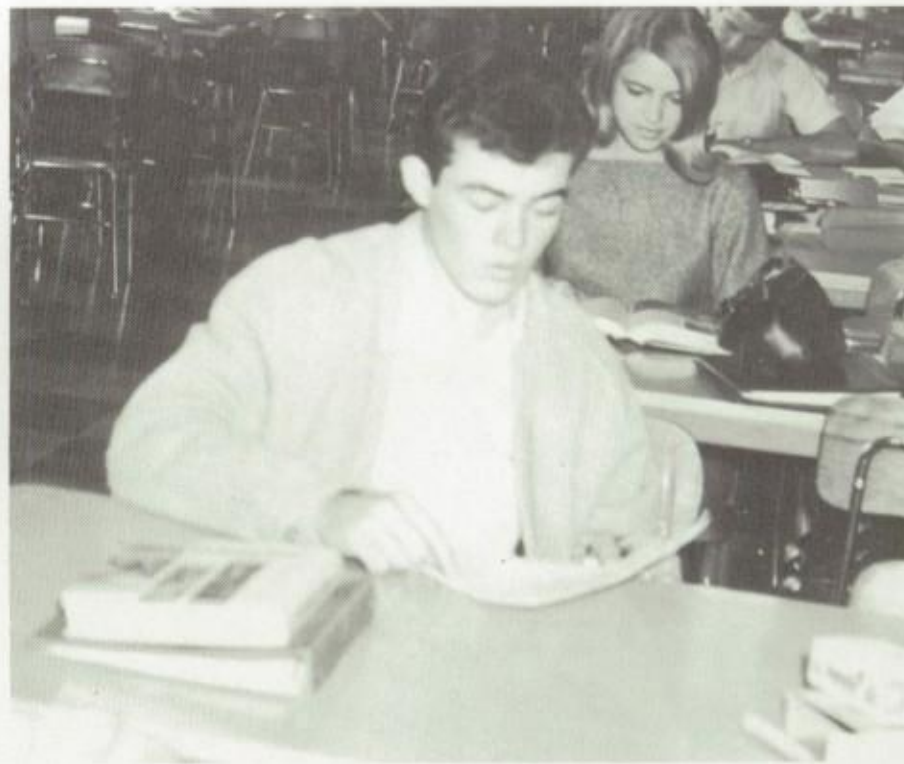

Judy Hayworth and Susan Fritzshall contemplate some of the ideas presented to them in the lecture on group behavior.

Mr. Hall gives instructions as a student drives around the Ruskin parking lot.

Terry Lewis shows the expression of contemplation as he fulfills an American History assignment.

History Students Find Link in National Affairs

Among the social science courses taught this year at Ruskin were American History, Missouri History, American Government, Comparative Government, and Driver's Education. Team teaching, although not new at Ruskin, was employed for the first time in instructing American History classes. Comparative Government was designed to show students the similarities and differences of all the "isms" in government. Driver's Education classes had three Chevrolets and three Fords at their disposal for out-of-class driving experience.

Mr. Burkhardt, who has been in the district seven years, taught American History and one class of Family Relations. He enjoys fishing and hunting and went on a fishing trip to Canada last summer.

Miss Kennedy, who has been at Ruskin for four years, taught American History, American Government, and Comparative Government.

Currently working on his M.A. in history, Mr. Yocum taught American History and World History. He has been a member of Ruskin's faculty for four years.

Mr. Reynolds taught American History and World History at Ruskin for the second year.

Track and field coach, Mr. Coyle taught American History and Driver's Education at Ruskin for the fifth year. He is also a registered Securities Broker.

This was Mr. Reed's third year at Ruskin, where he taught Missouri History and American History. He was also an assistant track coach.

Adjusting the rear-view mirror before driving is an important habit the Driver's Education student learns.

Historians Examine Bygone Civilizations

In World History sophomores view recent world events and their implications for modern man in solving current problems. They develop an awareness that the heritage of the past is the foundation upon which our present system operates and the future is being developed. Through Geography students achieve a better understanding of the influence of geography on the culture and economic progress of the United States and the world. Contemporary Issues gives the student an introduction into some of the controversial and unsolved problems of our nation today.

Mr. Roberts, who has been in the school system eight years, taught World History and Contemporary Issues. Aside from being the Junior class sponsor, he enjoys reading and participating in sports events.

This was the first year Mr. Sherrow taught at Ruskin; previously he taught at Joplin High School. This year he instructed World History and a class of American History. He is an avid bowling enthusiast. At present he is working on his masters degree in Political Science.

Mr. Stathos, who has been at Ruskin nine years, taught World History. Being the tennis coach, he enjoys that sport as well as swimming.

Having taught World History during the current year, this has been Mr. Gier's sixth year in the school system. His hobbies include bridge and golf.

Mr. Cochran, who has been in the district for five years, taught Geography as well as one class of Physical Education. He is the head track and Cross-Country coach.

American History teachers, Mr. Burkhart, Mr. Yocum, and Miss Kennedy scan through scores of tests given to students in the cafeteria.

Miss Kennedy lectures to her class on the legalities and duties of the citizen in international travel.

Communications classes read a variety of stories and articles throughout the year.

Language Department Helps Produce Camelot

David Zullig, Madeline Kupersmith, and Norman Goodman laugh at a mistake while obtaining instructions for staging in Camelot.

During the summer of 1967, Mrs. Gibson attended the Rockhurst Debate Institute. The 1967-68 debate topic was discussed at this institute.

While on her vacation in Europe, Mrs. Casper visited Norway, Denmark, Ireland, England, and France. She said, "In Norway, the scenery is spectacular. Everything is so natural, even the people are unspoiled."

Mrs. Gibson coached the Ruskin Rhetoricians, the debate club, and helped to direct the all school musical. Miss Scott sponsored the Thespians and the Ushers Society. She also planned several of the assemblies. Mrs. Casper and Mrs. McCreary were co-sponsors of the Ruskin Chapter of the Future Teachers of America.

The English department adopted several new books this past year. Mrs. Casper stated, "I'm having to study, just like the students do."

In the fall of 1967, the English and language arts departments combined efforts with the rest of the school to produce Camelot. Mrs. Gibson said, "It turned out surprisingly well. We attained our usual high caliber of performance, making it a success."

English Department Continues Team Teaching

After teaching English III during the 1967 summer school, Mr. Hughes visited Washington D.C.

Miss Maloof and Mrs. Lewis combined efforts, as a teaching team, to enlighten student knowledge with the use of visual aids, lectures, and library periods.

Mrs. Lewis stated, "We're trying to improve their writing abilities, reading skills and through discussion, their interpretative powers."

During the summer, Miss Belden sailed and played tennis. During the third quarter of this year, she had a student teacher, Mr. Bill Farrell.

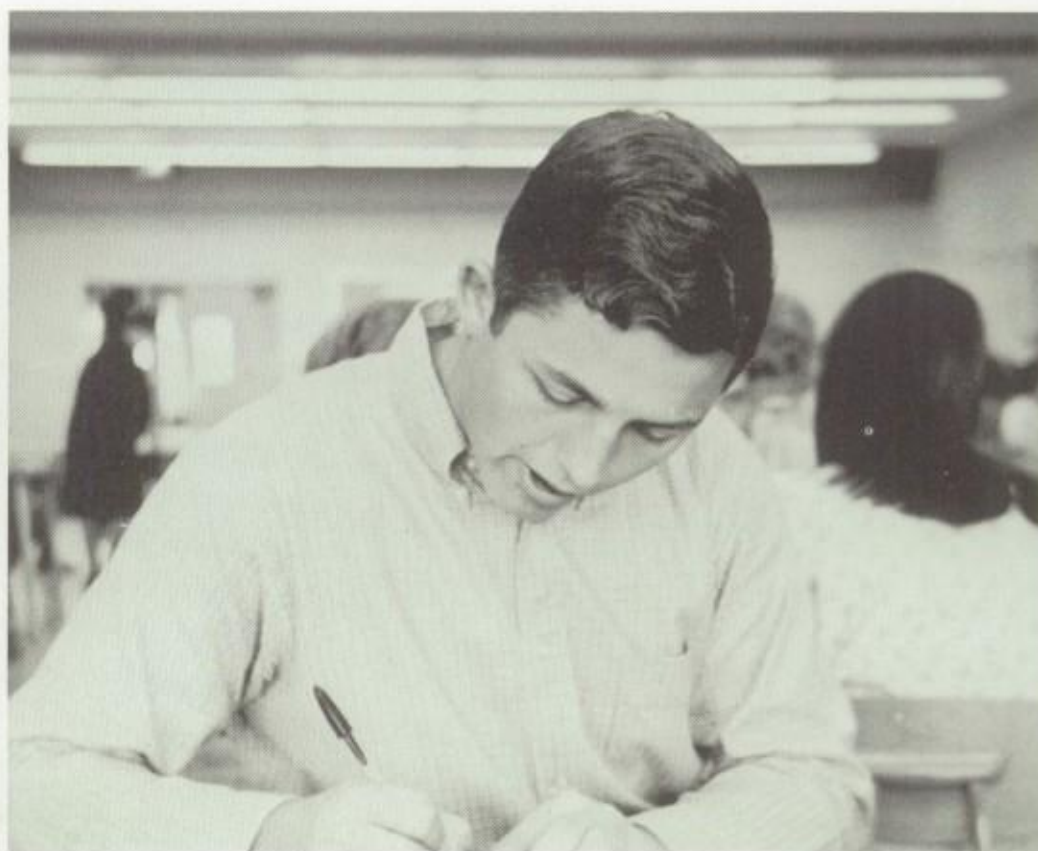

Caren Ortega, Vicki Reed, and Lea Medley try to understand the meaning of a passage of the poem, "Parzivals Boyhood".

Mrs. Perkins arranges statistics for the vertical file.

English Department Welcomes New Instructors

One of the new faculty members, Mrs. McKinley, spent her summer traveling around southern California with her seven year old son and her husband. Some of her hobbies are playing the piano, interior decorating, and serving as the "navigator" on cross country flights with her family.

Mrs. Kotowski spent two weeks fishing and camping around Ely, Minnesota and another week fishing and hiking in Colorado.

Miss Weeks and Mr. Fox both have completed two years of teaching within the district.

In reference to the utilization of library facilities, Miss Abarr stated, "It's good to know that the English classes are using the library with a purpose in mind."

Donna Tompkins waits patiently to check out a book for an English term paper.

Industrial Arts Steadies Inexperienced Hands

Industrial art classes are offered to develop valuable future skills and to arouse interest in different hobbies. These skills can be used after graduation and all during the student's lifetime.

Woodworking students enjoyed building such projects as stereo cabinets, gun cabinets, turned lamps, and coffee tables. These projects found a permanent place in the student's homes. Metalworking students were involved in making wrought iron lamps and end tables. Basic skills were stressed in General Shop. Tool boxes and book cases were made.

Architectural Drafting and Drafting I students interested in contest projects drew up house plans and built scale model houses with balsawood. Students participated in district and state contests held in Warrensburg and Columbia.

Metalworking students, Rick Combs, Mike Darrah, and Randy Peterson measure and pound sheet metal.

Barbara Thompson used a pressing cloth carefully to press in the zipper of a wool dress she is making in Home Ec. IV class.

Enrollment Reaches 350 in Home Ec Department

Jill Miller and Marsha Jeffers discover that skills of Home Economics often prove challenging.

Planning, preparing, and serving meals were highlights of a semester of cooking in the home economics department. The classes also discussed future plans for careers, family and social relationships, and practical purchases of clothes. Home Ec. III and IV made tailored suits and coats while those in Home Ec I sewed skirts and blouses.

Sewing, knitting, and the guitar are some of Mrs. Horton's hobbies. During her first year at Ruskin she taught Homemaking and Interiors and sponsored the F.H.A.

Sponsor of the Jr. Class and F.H.A., Miss Stilley is a Homemaking teacher. She has taught at Ruskin for eleven years. Miss Stilley enjoys traveling and sewing.

Mrs. Kizer taught Home Ec. II and Home Management and Child Care to total a five year teaching period at Ruskin.

Transmitting booths in the foreign language department help French I students better understand the complexities of their new language.

Ivonne Vallejo, Ruskin's American Field Service student from Chile, can take only a moments rest in her Spanish III class. Since Spanish is her country's native language, she works hard applying it to improve her English and helping other students with the Spanish language.

Faculty Additions Aid Foreign Language Progress

New teachers and increased enrollment brought new insight to Ruskin's foreign language department. Studying a foreign language not only offers the basic language of a country; but it also stresses the geographic, social and cultural aspects of that country.

Mrs. Dykes, a new French teacher, came to Ruskin from Lawrence High in Kansas. She enjoys playing the autoharp, singing old French songs, and sponsors the French Club.

Sponsor of the Spanish Club, Mrs. Dowell, has taught Spanish to Ruskinites for fifteen years.

Mrs. Roberts has taught two years at Ruskin. She enjoys music and swimming in her spare time.

Mrs. Graham, a new Latin teacher at Ruskin, has previously taught at Brunswick and Norborne, Missouri. She was honored with a Wall Street Journal Fellowship.

Mrs. Wilson pauses momentarily to answer a student's question regarding lettering.

During 6th hour art, Sandy Yaeger practices techniques of sketching to broaden her artistic talent.

Artists Assisted in Designing Props for Musical

This year Ruskin's art classes assisted in designing scenery for the 67-68 all-school musical, Camelot. Each student learned to interpret all types of artwork and create a style of his own.

Mrs. Ruth Brettle began her first year at Ruskin teaching Art I and Art Appreciation. Perspective, figure drawing, and collages challenged the students artistic ability.

Completing his third year at Ruskin, Irshel Hocker taught Art I and Art II. Mr. Hocker displayed a number of paintings in local galleries and art shows.

Art II and Art III students taught by Mrs. Jean Wilson began the year designing Christmas cards with a new press which was added to the department.

Mike Ferman completed his second year at Ruskin teaching Art I and Art IV.

Ability Sounds Off in Music Department

The music department at Ruskin has formed an integral part of Ruskin this year. The band performed for the second year at the half-time ceremonies at a Kansas City Chief's football game. Adding a colorful note to our games, the band performed at all home games during the half-time. The Choir remained an important part of almost all the assemblies conducted this year. All Chorus classes, with the Choir, Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, and the Chamber Choir, sang for enthusiastic audiences at the Vesper Service and the Spring Concert, which were conducted by Mrs. Wilson, Mr. Perkins, and Mr. Tarry.

Mr. Tarry, who has taught at Ruskin for ten years, teaches Choir, Chorus, Music Appreciation, and Music Theory I and II. Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs, the Chamber Choir, and the musical, Camelot, were all a part of his many extracurricular activities. Sports and the composition of original music are his hobbies. Mr. Tarry was the vice-president of the Central Missouri Music Educators Association. Mrs. Padgett assists Mr. Tarry by accompanying the Choir. She also accompanies some Chorus classes.

Mrs. Wilson, instructed a class of Language Arts II as well as Chorus. She has been in the school system for four years, and during last summer enrolled at University of Missouri at Kansas City, as well as swimming a great deal.

The Symphony Orchestra leader, Mr. Foster, also taught Beginning and Intermediate Orchestra at Ingels and Symington Elementary Schools. During the summer he was a teacher at the Warrensburg Summer Music Camp and was an Associate Professor at U.M.K.C. He has been at Ruskin for six years. Mr. Foster is the secretary of the American String Teacher's Association. His hobbies include most of the active sports: fishing, hunting, golfing, flying, and skin diving.

Mr. Scott, who conducted the "A" Band, has taught for four years at Ruskin. He was appointed the Associate Director of the All American Youth Honor Band. With them he traveled this past summer to Venezuela, Aruba, and the Dominican Republic.

The "B" Band was instructed by Mr. Perkins, who has been in the district for two years. He also teaches Chorus.

The Choir gives its attention to the induction of the new Student Council members before performing.

P.E. Develops Coordination and Sportsmanship

The physical education faculty grew to five members during 67-68 with the addition of Mrs. Bosch. Mrs. Bosch, divided her teaching schedule between Baptiste and Ruskin.

No new sports were added to the curriculum. However, the same old favorites such as football, softball, and basketball were played. Tennis and tumbling were two of the girls' favorites. The new outdoor tennis and basketball courts were used extensively.

Nationwide Physical Fitness tests were a mainstay in P.E. throughout the year. The test consisted of such skills as push-ups, sit-ups, chin-ups, pegboard climb, softball throw, horizontal ladder, and various other tests.

P.E. gym helpers, who acted as referees, ensured fair but spirited play at Ruskin during '67.

This year the Special Education classes were involved in several joint projects. These projects included the reupholstering of living room furniture, refinishing, antiquing, and varnishing old chairs, and holding candy sales. The candy sales financed grocery purchases. The girls' classes planned and prepared well-balanced meals.

A stove and refrigerator were purchased new for the department this year.

Mrs. Wille's classes helped the Dramatic Department by pressing costumes for the musical.

During the United Fund Campaign, Special Education classes earned money for contributions. Everyone took part in the drive.

The girls' sewing project for the year was making shop aprons for the boys and housecoats for themselves.

Mrs. Wille attended summer school last summer to work toward her masters degree. She has taught two years in this school district.

Mr. Beers has published several educational games designed to help Special Education students.

Working diligently, James Trott, Patricia Sinsabough, Catherine Miller, and Betty Schoor display deep concentration on their studies.

A Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps, sponsored by the United States Air Force, began at Ruskin during 1967-68.

Lt. Col. Pollock was the Aerospace Education Instructor, while Chief Master Sgt. Akin and Master Sgt. Stone taught cadets the principles of drill. All three of these men have retired after twenty-two years of service.

Many activities were attended by the cadets. One of the activities was the Richards-Gebaur Air Force Base Air Show. The cadets also participated in flag raising ceremonies at football games, and Honor Guard service at the United Fund Campaign in Municipal Auditorium.

SCHOOL LIFE

Tomiko Namba

Ivonne Vallejo

Locker partners Tomiko Namba and Ivonne Vallejo pause between classes.

Ruskin students enjoyed the presence of two exchange students, in one year, for the first time, as Tomiko Namba and Ivonne Vallejo joined the senior class.

Ivonne Vallejo came from Rancagua, Chile. Arriving in the United States on August 9, 1967, she left her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Pedro A. Vallejo, and a younger brother and sister. She enjoys reading, music, and sports. Ivonne's American parents were Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Holmes and she also has a sister Carole, and a brother Keith. When Ivonne returns to Chile and completes high school, she hopes to attend the Chilean University and become a doctor.

Tomiko Namba, or "Tomi," came from Tokyo, Japan. Tomi arrived in the United States on August 6 to live with Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Hardy and their daughter and son, Nancy and Edward. Her Japanese family consisted of her father and mother and three older sisters. Music, Japanese dance, piano, reading, and sports, are but a few of Tomi's hobbies. When she returns to Japan, Tomi will have to finish the last half of her senior year. Her ambition is to become a translator for an organization like the United Nations.

Looking remarkably alike with chin-length hair, dark complexions, and similar heights, Tomiko Namba and Ivonne Vallejo were constant companions throughout their year at Ruskin High.

Striving to create an interest in various school activities, Ruskin's Student Government began the 1967-68 school year under the leadership of the elected officers—Lloyd Arnsmeier, president; Dave Godfrey, vice-president; Randy Dawson, treasurer; Cora Biggerstaff, treasurer.

The week before school opened, the council held a reception in honor of old and new faculty members. Refreshments of coke, coffee, and doughnuts were served as teachers exchanged experiences of the preceding summer and ideas for the coming school year.

As the year got underway, the annual magazine drive began. Extending the sale to three weeks, students turned in an all-time high of $12,000. This year's high salesman was Michelle Boiteaux, with a $312 total. Last year's council raised enough money to bring two foreign exchange students to Ruskin instead of one, Tomika (Tomi) Namba, from Japan, and Ivonne Vallejo, from Chile.

In December, the council sponsored the Snow Ball dance, under the theme "Winter Wonderland." March was the month for exchange day, where five exchange students from Kansas City high schools came to Ruskin to start off the drive for Ruskin's 68-69 students. They visited different classrooms and talked about their native countries to create a basis for world understanding.

Student council members are elected each year from their respective classes. During the second week of April, students circulate petitions and vote on those students wanted to represent their classes the following year. President and vice-president are elected by the entire student body, and the elected council chooses the secretary and treasurer.

Head Student Government

Magazine sales play a big part in financing student council activities each year. Mr. Bill Drake, sales representative from the Curtis Magazine Company, talked to the council about the 1967 sales campaign.

Prizes were awarded to salesmen of $20 and higher. A special attraction was a movie, "Lord Jim," shown on school time to students selling two magazines.

Tomika Namba, Ruskin's exchange student from Japan, and her American sister, Nancy Hardy, pause on "Tomi's" first visit to Ruskin.

"How 'bout a nice Hawaiian punch?" Roger Zirbel asks as he mixes refreshments to be served at the dance.

Unsuspecting, Cora Biggerstaff awaits the announcement of the queen.

"Winter Wonderland," the theme of the Snow Ball dance was carried out under the colors of blue and white. Musical entertainment was provided by the Sunshines, and refreshments of punch, brownies, and cookies were served by student council members. The attendance at the dance was over 600.

For the fourth year the Mirage staff presents twelve of Ruskin's most outstanding seniors. A faculty committee nominated seniors for "Who's Who," then they selected six boys and six girls from these names. Having chosen these twelve people, the committee picked a couple for each specific trait, with the exception of Scholarship which was based strictly on class rank. Although Who's Who selections were based on such qualities as scholarship, citizenship, sportsmanship, courtesy, and versatility, the most important asset considered was the student's attitude toward faculty, fellow students, school, community, and their society as a whole.

Mary Massey's face expresses ... anticipation during the processional ... realization during the recessional ... perhaps joy or many other emotions, minutes later.

In the Ruskin auditorium on May 21, 1967, the Baccalaureate service was held for the class of 1967. Ruskin's choir sang two numbers. Rev. Myron E. Neal gave the Baccalaureate sermon, with the invocation, scripture, and benediction being given by Rev. Gordon Logan, Rev. Loren S. Goings, and Rev. Philip Needles.

Seniors in Final Farewell

Mass confusion results after Commencement as caps and gowns are handed back and students receive their actual diplomas.

Commencement exercises were held in the RLDS Auditorium in Independence, Missouri, on May 23, 1967, at 8:00 p.m. Traditional "Pomp and Circumstance" by Elgar was the Processional. The invocation was given by David Anchutz, valedictorian, and the benediction by the salutatorian, Susan Henny Pierson. After a number by the Concert Choir, Tom V. Foraker, Superintendent of Schools, introduced Jim Suddarth, class president. Cheryl Briggs, Jim Moore, and Sharon Groschart gave Commencement addresses on the subject of education. A. A. McElroy, President, Board of Education, presented the diplomas while Joseph H. Nesbit, Assistant Superintendent of Schools, read the class roll. Formal Commencement exercises were concluded with singing the Alma Mater, followed by the Recessional.

"A Night In Madrid", the theme of the 1967 Junior-Senior Prom, made Pierson Hall, on the UMKC Campus come alive on a wet, drizzly, May evening. With the prom bringing the school year almost to a close, seniors were left with prom memories; juniors with anxiety for the 1968 prom.

Arrangements of red and white carnations helped set the theme. A black bull watched over each table, drawing prom attendants into the Spanish mood.

A reception line greeted the arrivals, who checked their wraps and disappeared 'midst the elegant gowns and elaborate curls.

Musical selections were provided by David Van Sandt and his orchestra. Couples danced to music ranging from quiet waltzes to fast popular songs.

A uniquely decorated refreshment table featured a fountain from which couples were served punch.

The dance concluded at midnight, as tired, happy couples headed homeward from a memorable evening.

The keystone and flaming torch, emblem of the National Honor Society, symbolizes the light of truth. At the base are the letters C, S, L, and S. These letters stand for character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

To become a member of the Honor Society, students must maintain an S average in all courses. The student fills out an application which is then reviewed by the entire faculty for approval.

The traditional candle light buffet dinner was held in the spring for the induction of new members.

Some fifty-five members went to the State National Honor Society Meeting on March 9. While in St. Louis, the students also took a tour of the zoo and went to see the "Gateway to the West" arch.

Membership is awarded to only those publications staff members who meet the basic requirements established by the Quill and Scroll Society and the local chapter.

Requirements for membership at Ruskin are, the student must be a senior in the upper third of the class in general scholastic standing, have done superior work in some phase of journalism, be recommended by either Mrs. Skinner, or Mr. Wrisinger, and be approved by the Executive Secretary of the Society.

After the initial membership initiation fees there are no annual dues. On payment of dues the Society provides the new candidate with an official pin or charm of choice, a one year subscription to Quill and Scroll magazine, and a membership card.

"Are we ever going to get this edition out?" wonders Richard Lynn, editor, as Mickey Chalmers rechecks his copy with Mr. Wrisinger.

Given a female character, male character, setting, and plot, Denny Lancaster works hard to combine them into an acceptable theme.

Barbara Oliver, news editor, receives useful information on writing good newspaper copy from Mr. Wrisinger.

The Hi-Light, the official Ruskin newspaper, was published approximately every three weeks from September through May. Completely written and edited by Creative Writing students, the Hi-Light is considered strong in journalistic achievement with rating of "Special Excellent" or "Excellent" by the Missouri Interscholastic Press. Besides producing the Hi-Light, the class studies poetry and advanced journalism in preparation for college work.

Artists Construct Another Ruskin Eagle

Ruskin's Esthetics Club, better known as the Art Club, sponsored various activities for Ruskin this year. They included the tour of the Kansas City Art Institute, a number of bake sales, guest speakers, and work parties.

During the Christmas season, the club made plastic wreaths, from IBM cards; felt stockings, and candles. Items were sold at their Christmas sale and all things not sold were given to a children's home. The club also helped decorate the school's halls to put students more in the Christmas mood.

Another project was the construction of an eagle head and costume, to be used for cheerleading. This eagle was made from paper-mache, with a blue and gold costume.

The Ruskin Rhetorician Society was sponsored by Mrs. Gibson.

As a means of raising money, the club held candy sales and candy bar sales. From the proceeds, the club financed state and district tournaments, sponsored the Speech I debate tournament, and supervised the annual Junior High tournament between Baptiste and Ervin.

This year marked the beginning of a new tradition within the society. Steve Hollingsworth, debate club president, was the first third year debater ever to be on the squad.

As usual, the members of the club also composed the debate class which met fourth hour of every day. During the club meetings and classes students participated in practice debates, some judging, some timing, and the rest debating.

and Serve Ruskin's Audiences

Pat Cocherl, Ron Hoeltge, and Ron Hilton rehearse their parts for Afraid of the Dark.

Drama Club members are concentrating on the speaker and developing ideas of their own.

"The Drama Club has been very busy this year. The change of sponsors was confusing, but it seemed to pull everyone together and make them realize the show must go on," remarked Barbara Oliver.

The Annual Ruskin Invitational Speech and Debate Tournament was held October 27 and 28. Kansas City area high schools were invited to this speech arts match.

Club members were judges at the Baptiste-Ervin Speech and Debate Tournament held at Ruskin.

Forty-four students went to see Gone with the Wind to observe acting techniques.

The school musical, Camelot, was another project of the members. They also took charge of the spring play, Look Homeward, Angel.

Again the club sponsored the Ushers' Society.

To end the year, the Annual Drama Awards Dinner was held in the cafeteria.

King Arthur, Norman Goodman, and Guenevere, Madeline Kupersmith, rehearse their lines in preparation for dress rehearsal.

Camelot, the musical by Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe, was, at Ruskin, an all-school musical in every sense. Music was provided by the Orchestra and the Choir. The Industrial Arts and the Art Departments worked together to provide scenery. Costumes were prepared by the Home Economics Department, while the Commerce Department provided programs and some posters. Of course the Dramatics Department worked throughout the theatrical production.

Fred Tarry was the director, with Barbara Oliver and Roseanne Nespica as student directors.

Taking place in King Arthur's Court, Camelot is about the love triangle between King Arthur, Queen Guenevere, and Lancelot.

Dress rehearsal was held November 16, with performances being given on November 17, and 18, both of which received standing ovations. From the first to second performances a few scenery changes were made. After the first performance flowers were presented by the cast to several people who contributed greatly in time and effort to the play. Following the final performance the cast gathered on stage and sang the school song. A cast party was held after the performance. The following morning, as has been the tradition, cast members gathered at the Community Christian Church to sing in the church choir, which is directed by Mr. Tarry.

The 1967-68 Distributive Education Club worked on a scholarship program. "We have started something that we hope will catch on in the metropolitan area. We will try to push other schools into following our lead," Mr. Alley said.

The club offered $250 in scholarships to five of its outstanding members. The money allowed the winners to attend a two-year program in Distribution and Marketing at the Central Missouri State College.

Ruskin had the largest number of delegates in the State convention. There are a total of 189 students in the Distributive Education program.

The members had to raise $1,250 for the scholarships. To raise this money they sold candy, baked goods and sponsored a dance.

Spanish Club Offers Insight Into Other Lands

The betterment of Hispo-American relations was the main objective this year of El Circulo Español. Spanish, Latin American, and European Customs and rituals were used in developing interesting formats for the meetings. Monthly meetings, a field trip to a Spanish restaurant, and a lively Christmas party helped the members to understand foreign customs better. A piñata in the form of St. Nicholas was broken in true Spanish tradition.

Yvonne Vallejo, the foreign exchange student from Chile, is an active member. Yvonne said of El Circulo Español, "Not only does the club help me to learn the traditions of other Spanish-speaking countries, but it also helps me to learn more of your English language. For example, if the club had not had the Christmas party, I would probably never have had the opportunity to try and break a piñata."

David Bernard, president, takes charge of the meeting as Patty Johnson, secretary, records useful data for future meetings.

Bob Taylor dons the traditional blindfold in order to prevent him from seeing the piñata while trying to break it.

Classical League Relives Roman Customs

The Junior Classical League began the year with Mrs. Graham as the new sponsor.

At the beginning of each meeting the members gave the pledge of allegiance in Latin and sang the club song, "Gaudeamus Igitur."

Every other week one of the members put on a special program. One of these programs was a style show depicting all varieties of styles of clothing worn during ancient times. Another was portraying the many Latin holidays. The members also worked on crossword puzzles dealing with mythological characters.

On December 22, the group went to the Swope Ridge Nursing Home and sang Christmas carols in Latin.

The State Convention for the Junior Classical League was held in Columbia, Missouri on March 23. The members participated in several contests there.

In April the club had a Roman banquet which climaxed Latin week. Each member wore togas and ate just as the Romans did, with no knives or forks.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Dorothy Wright, various activities were planned to help club members learn more about medical careers. The club took field trips to Children's and Research Hospital where they saw old and modern equipment and techniques.

Among the guest speakers at the club meetings were a student nurse, an x-ray technician, and a medical doctor. They discussed their jobs and hospital procedures.

A comedy style show added entertainment to the first meeting of Ruskin's Future Homemakers of America Club. Mrs. Kizer and Mrs. Horton, sponsors of the club, helped to organize the show.

With their sponsors, the club members attended a regional meeting and workshop in October. At the meeting they listened to speakers and learned about the activities of other F.H.A. clubs.

During the Christmas season, the club toured and entertained at the Highland Children's Home in Kansas City. At a Christmas party the girls broke a pinata.

In February the club attended a movie, Guess Who's Coming to Dinner, which was discussed at a later meeting.

The F.H.A. members took a field trip in April, based on conservation. They also planted tulips around Ruskin's school grounds.

The positions of recording secretary and corresponding secretary were filled by Julie Cooper and Lou Ann Steen. Cindy Eagleson was treasurer. Senior class representatives were Betty Terrell and Sue McCarty. Pat Roper and Suzie Scott were the Junior representatives and Debby Buchanan and Nanci Moll represented the sophomores.

In the first, she distributed samples of Holiday Magic beauty treatments to each member and instructed them in the use of these products. The following week, she demonstrated the proper application of different types of make-up.

Sending Christmas gifts to the children of a small village in Viet Nam was a project undertaken by the club. Books, clothing, and toys brightened Christmas for the children.

The girls purchased "football" sweatshirts with "R.G.A.A." and the year they graduate printed on them.

The athletic program consisted of a volleyball tournament, bombardment, bowling, and basketball. The first Powder Puff basketball game was sponsored by R.G.A.A. and by the Pep Club.

A winning spirit, fair-play, and athletic skills, the important components of athletics were given special emphasis.

Cupid's Fantasy was the theme for the annual Sweetheart Dance held February 17 in the Ruskin cafeteria. The dance lasted from 8 pm until 11 pm. The "Here and After" provided music for the dance.

The cafeteria was decorated in red, pink, and white hearts. A centerpiece ornamented the refreshment table, and consisted of a bouquet of ribbon with roses woven into it. Cake and punch were served. The back of the queen's throne had a white cupid centered in a red heart. There were also roses and angel hair around the seat of the throne.

Karen King was crowned queen by Mr. Steck; her senior attendants were Mary Jo Schrader and Shirley Prewitt. The junior attendant was Denise Lindstrom and the sophomore attendant was Merrie Lee Wynn. Karen was presented with a bouquet of arm roses and a heart necklace.

The dance was attended by approximately one hundred couples.

Tryouts were held in April 1967 for cheerleaders. Varsity cheerleaders went to the summer camp at the University of Mississippi. Everyday the Varsity squad won a first place ribbon, won the pep stick one day, and the Grand Champion Trophy after final competition. The Varsity squad represented Ruskin with the band during the American Royal Parade. Meanwhile the Junior Varsity cheerleaders went to camp at Marshall, Missouri, at Missouri Valley College. This squad during daily competition took one white, two red, and a blue ribbon.

Pep Club added crop tops, blue blouses, and pom pons to their uniforms this year, providing a change in costume for the club members. Money was earned for the pom pons and other projects by having a sale of chocolate candy, a car wash, and the Powder Puff game.

This year's officers, were: Joan Schultz, president; Renee White, vice-president; Karen King, secretary; Pam Johaningsmier, treasurer; and Paula Duple, sign chairman.

The Pep Club donated money to the Gillis Boys' Home and Kansas Juvenile Court Shelter Home. To the latter they also gave a swing set. Pep Club was also responsible for decorations at Homecoming, the theme of which was Psychedelic '67. In May the annual Pep Club Senior Party was held.

R.G.A.A. won the Powder Puff volleyball games, but Pep Club came back to defeat them at the Powder Puff basketball game with a winning score of 22 to 10. January 10, 1968, was the date of the game.

Constitution Accepted: R-Club Official

Granted an "okay" to their proposed constitution, Ruskin's R-Club became an official school-sponsored organization. To be eligible for membership, a boy must have previously lettered in a school-accredited sport.

Sponsored by Coaches Clark, Cockran, Swift, and Partridge, the club participated in a year of varied activities and events. As a group, members attended football and basketball games to form the "male pep club." In order to boost spirit during the Center Invitational Basketball

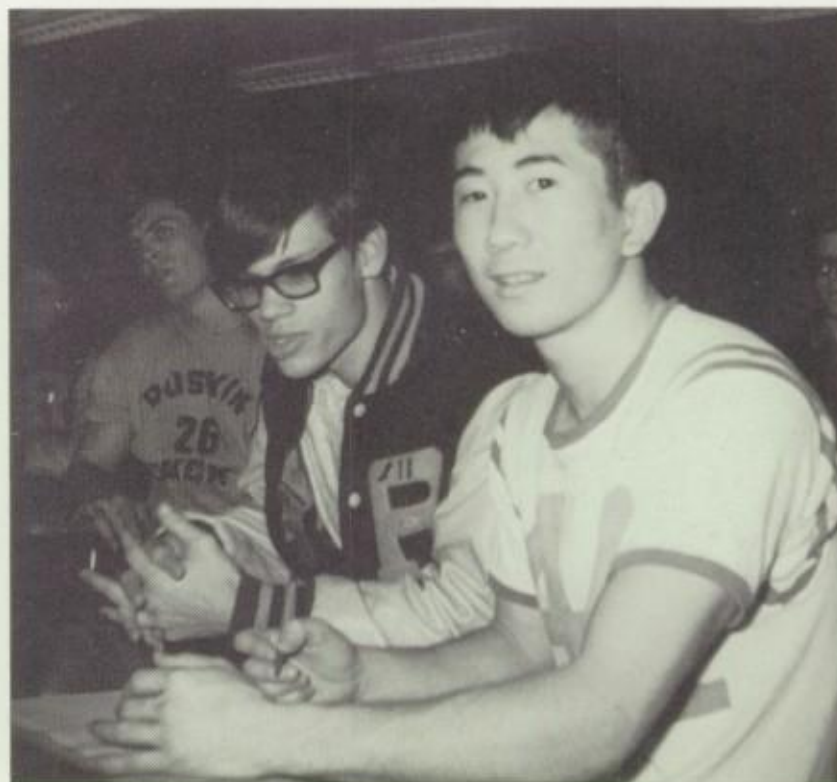

Tourney, the R-Club decided to dribble a basketball to Center. After traveling about one block from school, the boys' attempt was called to a halt on a complaint that they were "blocking traffic."

Representative to William Chrisman Exchange Day, Mickey Chalmers, president, suggested that all lettermen clubs in the suburban eight conference hold a picnic at the end of the year. The idea was approved and plans were made to hold a letterman picnic in May of 1968.

President Mickey Chalmers leads a discussion on club initiations.

While singing Christmas carols, the choir pauses on the staircase and watches Mr. Tarry.

Juniors and seniors auditioned to become part of the Choir. Sixty-eight members prepare for the Fall, Christmas, and Spring Concerts. The Choir also participated in Conference clinics and appeared at both District Festivals of Song. As a group, and in smaller divisions, the Choir participated in District and State Contests. This year the Choir co-sponsored the musical Camelot. During fourth hour on December 22, 1967, the Choir, as is done annually, went from classroom to classroom singing carols.

Chamber Choir membership is taken from the choir, with membership by invitation of Mr. Tarry. They specialize in music for small groups, from madrigals to pop tunes. This group performs in and out of school at various occasions.

Performing five different half-time shows was only one of the many activities the Golden Eagle Band was involved in this year. Highlights of the marching season were Armed Forces Night, their tribute to Walt Disney, and various contests. The band spent long and tiring hours in perfecting these shows.

For the second year, the band was invited to perform at half-time at one of the K.C. Chiefs home football games.

Demonstrating true Ruskin enthusiasm the band took part in the annual American Royal Parade.

In the Walt Disney nationwide contest the band placed fifth. This was considered their greatest achievement for 1967-68. The band spent an exhausting week with early morning and late evening rehearsals in preparation for this taped entry.

At the end of the marching season the band began its concert season. In the spring they were involved in state and district contests and came back with several excellent ratings.

Two of the divisions of the band are the stage band and pep band. They furnished music for Ruskin's pep rallies and assemblies.

Accuracy and good timing are two essential qualities for perfect unison.

Strings and Winds Combine for Symphony

The 1967-68 Ruskin Symphony Orchestra concluded its second year with 49 members. Under the direction of Mr. Foster, the orchestra performed in the annual Christmas and Spring concerts, a conference concert, and a district concert.

During spring term, the group participated in the district contest at Warrensburg.

For the first time, Ruskin had a real pit orchestra to highlight the all-school musical. Thirty-four of the forty-nine orchestra members provided instrumental accompaniment to Camelot.

Mr. Foster has taught in this district for six years. He is concertmaster for the U.M.K.C. String Orchestra and is also assistant concertmaster for the U.M.K.C. Civic Orchestra.

This year's Amateur Radio Club ended the 1967-68 school year successfully as they established their own short-wave radio station.

All equipment used was built by members of the club. They were able to communicate with other radio stations across the country as well as in this area.

"The main purpose of the Radio Club is to prepare members for their operating licenses", stated Mr. Houser, the club's supervisor.

This year's officers were: Tom Smith, president; Neill Fleeman, vice-president; Tom Gee, secretary; and Bob Mitts, treasurer.

ROTC Highlights

The student body, on a welcome break from the classroom routine, awaits the beginning of an assembly.

Homecoming candidates and escorts are introduced as they are saluted by pep club members.

The ROTC members added a new phase to assemblies at Ruskin this year. At the beginning of all indoor assemblies, the Color Guard carried the American flag and Ruskin's flag into the gymnasium.

The assembly year began with an orientation assembly followed by outdoor pep rallies. Orientation acquainted the students with the customs of Ruskin, the flag, and the new department, ROTC. The football team was introduced by the Pep Club and cheerleaders at the outdoor pep rallies. The band also played at the rallies. A special assembly was held to introduce the candidates for Homecoming Queen and attendants. Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies were held to help the students observe the holidays. On Thanksgiving, a guest speaker appeared at the holiday assembly. The choir and drama department also performed. At the Christmas assembly, the drama department presented their version of a modern Christmas and read the true story of Christmas. The orchestra played several holiday songs and the choir rendered traditional Christmas carols.

Purchase of an Acoustics System

Taking time to mix paint, one of Ruskin's custodians prepares to begin painting the rooms for the oncoming school year.

After the close of the 1966-67 school year Ruskin began its summer activities and improvements. Mr. Hoskin's counselors office was remodeled in order to make accommodations for Mr. Amick's office.

Several of the custodians spent time during the vacation painting some of the classrooms in the building.

One of the most important differences noticed at Ruskin this year was the installation of an acoustics system in the gym. It aided in the projection of sound to all parts of the gym during plays and assemblies.

The librarians devoted time to covering pictures in order that teachers could check them out for their rooms.

Summer school was held for approximately six weeks, offering many different courses. Classes were held in the classrooms, cafeteria, and the library.

On Ruskin's outdoor fields workmen screened new backstops for softball games and padded the football field with new grass for the coming year.

CMSgt. Stone delivers a lecture on weather, while cadets take notes.

This year, the 1190th Air Force Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps group became a part of Ruskin. The organization at Ruskin is one of two such groups in the entire state of Missouri.

Under the direction of Lt. Col. Keith Pollock, SMSgt. Gaylord Akin, and CMSgt. Herbert Stone, the cadets learned drill, military customs, and studied aerospace education courses on weather, the history of aviation and aircraft of today and tomorrow.

Cadets performed color guard duties for assemblies and held flag raising ceremonies every morning before school and at all home football games. A special color guard performed at the United Fund Campaign.

Just prior to the Christmas vacation, the entire cadet corps gathered in the library for the first promotion ceremonies here at Ruskin. Over 200 cadets were promoted to the permanent rank of airman, with several of them receiving temporary rank ranging from sergeant to captain. Mr. Foraker, Mr. Nesbit, Mr. Steck, Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Cattle were all present to witness the promotion ceremonies.

A cadet drill team was formed which specialized in precision drill. They performed for a visiting major from AFROTC Headquarters at Maxwell AFB.

Ruskin's Varsity, Junior Varsity, and Sophomore

Mr. Kelley, Mr. Lewis, Mr. Partridge, Mr. Frazier, and Mr. Noland, Ruskin's five football coaches.

Ruskin Eagles opened their 1968 football season by blasting the Lee's Summit Tigers 34-6. Both teams got off to a slow start, but the second quarter proved to be one-sided as Ruskin dominated the field on an entire team effort.

Ruskin's rivalry game with Grandview was mostly a defensive game and field position was a critical factor. Both teams were held tight until the fourth quarter when the Bulldogs pushed across the line to upset Ruskin 6-0.

Oak Park, Kansas City's top-ranked team, handed Ruskin its second loss by a score of 20-6 in their first Suburban Eight Conference Game. Ruskin's injuries started to show when the Raytown Blue Jays downed the Eagles in their second conference game 13-12.

Despite the rainy weather and muddy field, Ruskin was able to break a three game losing streak to top Truman 14-13.

The Eagles were unable to hold North Kansas City, and were defeated 22-6 in their Homecoming game.

Ruskin romped Rockhurst 26-13 for a non-conference victory on the Hawklet's field.

Ruskin closed their season with a victory over William Chrisman 47-25 and upset Center with a tight 22-21 defeat causing a three-way tie for first.

Crowning of the 1967-68 Homecoming Queen was the climax of an eventful week at Ruskin. October 9 through 13 was christened Ruskin Week, and spirit was boosted by Tag Day, Mystery Pep Club Member Day, Handsome Leg Contest, and a pep rally on Friday afternoon. The Homecoming candidates were introduced to the student body in an all-school assembly on Wednesday.

During halftime of the Ruskin-North Kansas City game, the attendants, escorted by their proud fathers, were presented to the Homecoming crowd. Highlighting the festivities was the crowning of Debbie Mosby, Ruskin's 1967-68 Homecoming Queen.

The dance, Psychedelic '67, was well attended by students and alumni. Queen Debbie and her attendants danced the first dance to the music of the New Breed.

The Ruskin Eagles opened their 1967 basketball season November 28, with an impressive 53-41 victory over the Lee's Summit Tigers. The deciding factor for Ruskin was the 24 field goals made as compared to Lee's Summit's 16.

The Eagles claimed the first place trophy in the Grandview Basketball Tournament for the sixth year in a row. Defeating Belton with a 19 point margin qualified Ruskin for a championship play-off match. The title game with Grandview was a squeaker. With only three seconds to play, Mike Simpson made two free throws, putting the Eagles out of the reach of the Bulldogs.

Mike Simpson's long-range sharpshooting in the second half pushed Ruskin past Liberty, 64-57, giving the Eagles their fourth straight victory of the season.

Evan Skurdal and Mike Simpson, scoring 18 points each, pushed the Eagles record to 5-0 with a 61-48 non-league victory over Grandview. Skurdal also gave a strong hand defensively by pulling down 12 rebounds.

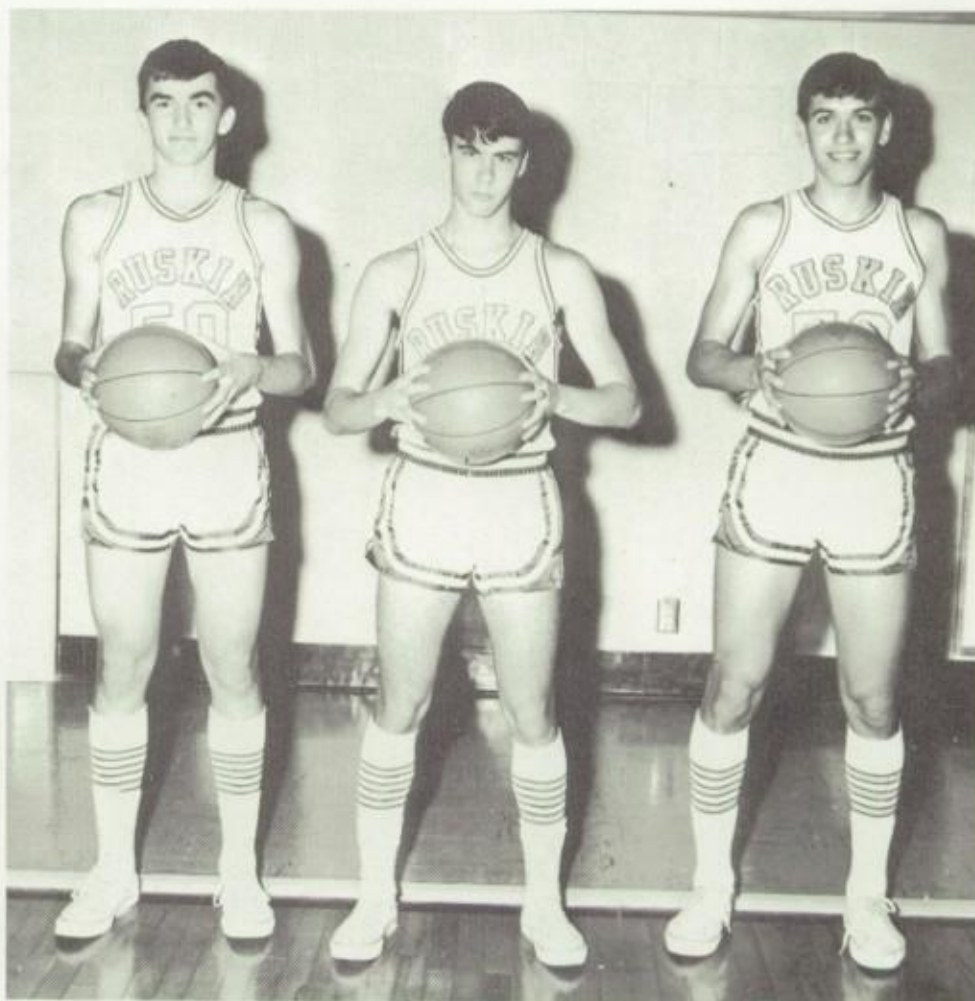

Using great rebounding strength, the Truman Patriots handed the Eagles their first loss of the season. This was the conference opener for both teams.

In the first game of the Lee's Summit Tournament Ruskin fell to Oak Park in two overtimes, 74-73. In the second game Ruskin took on North Kansas City, winning a 62-53 contest to enter the consolation final against Grandview. On the final night of the tournament Grandview and Ruskin battled for fifth place, the Eagles pulling out a one-point victory.

Give the Eagles a Winning Season

The Eagles defeated the Raytown Blue Jays, 54-45 with a fourth-quarter spurt. Bruce Bender was high scorer with an 18-point total.

The Eagles won a thriller over the North Kansas City Hornets, scoring in the last second of this low-scoring game to edge the Hornets, 37-35.

The Eagles went into a slump, dropping four Suburban Conference games to William Chrisman, Raytown South, Oak Park, and Truman.

Ruskin's first game in the Center Tournament was against De La Salle. The Titans defeated the Eagles 56-38.

The Eagles came back in the consolation semi-final to win a close-scoring game against Liberty, 48-42. This eliminated Liberty and enabled the Eagles to play in the consolation finals.

On the last night of the tournament Ruskin battled Lee's Summit and won 52-46, for fifth place consolation prize.

Ruskin rallied in the fourth quarter to top Raytown 58-53. Evan Skurdal and Bob Cooper were the key men, scoring eight and six points respectively.

Bruce Bender saved Ruskin by pulling the Eagles into an overtime, then hitting the winning basket in the extra period for a 54-51 victory over the North Kansas City Hornets. Bender also hit 19 points for high scorer on both teams.

Using an effective pressing defense, the Center Yellowjackets defeated the Eagles 66-58. Balanced scoring in the fourth quarter enabled Center to come from behind and defeat the Eagles.

The Eagles were victorious over Oak Park in the last home game of the season on January 23. Great rebounding and shooting led the Eagles to a 65-59 victory over the Northmen.

Previous to this, the Eagles had dropped two games to Raytown South and William Chrisman, rated number one and two in the Suburban Eight Conference.

The Eagles ended with a winning season with a total of sixteen wins and eleven losses.

As Grandview rebounds the ball, Evan Skurdal gets ready to tie it up.

Fore and Love . . . Two Familiar Sounds

Four returning lettermen (Rick Herrera, Ed Reidlinger, Pat Cocherl and Ron Sidebottom) filled the positions on Ruskin's varsity golf team. For the second year, practices were held at Southview Golf Club. Mr. Swift, golf coach, said the stiffest competition would come from Truman, Raytown South, and Park Hill. He expected Ruskin to place better than the 3rd place they held at Conference last year. Raytown South and Truman lost some of their experienced players. Mr. Swift also felt all of his players were evenly matched in skill and would do well in Pem Day, Conference, District, and State Tournaments. Golf season began in March when the weather was nice enough to play.

Three returning lettermen, Bruce Bender, Tom Doyle, and Mark Damon, formed the nucleus of Ruskin's tennis team. Mr. Stathos, coaching for the seventh consecutive year, prepared his team for up-coming matches. Limbering up drills such as lateral sliding and the basic strokes were used primarily. Coach Stathos expected William Chrisman to afford the toughest competition.

Distance Runners Jog To Outstanding Season

Mr. Cochran, Head Coach, and Mr. Reynolds, Assistant Coach, guided their harriers to an outstanding season. This was Mr. Cochran's second year as Head Coach and Assistant Coach, Mr. Reynolds, first year. Their final overall record was 10 wins, 1 loss, and 2 ties. They placed fourth in Conference and tied for fourth in the District meet. Truman won the Conference championship and East triumphed in the District meet. In the Ruskin Invitational Meet our team came in third. Again, East High School came through and won the Ruskin Invitational Meet. Team Captain Jerry Fields led the team throughout the season and on to an eleventh place finish in the State meet. Kirkwood High, St. Louis, took State honors. Most of the meets were held on the Ben Ervin farm.

Because of 5 returning lettermen, Coach Cochran believes that, "Next year should be at least as good as this year."

Both the cross country team and the track team benefited from whirlpool bath treatments. Ben Sivewright, a member of the track team, puts the machine to good use.

When the weather is cold, Ruskin trackmen must do their conditioning exercises in the halls.

Track and field coaches, Cochran, Coyle, Reed, and Reynolds, after viewing some early season meets, anticipated an extremely well balanced conference. Fifteen let-termen returned from last year's squad. Last season these same boys played a vital role in our second place finish in conference. Raytown South and Truman again had talent laden teams this year.

Because of a cohesive blend in senior and underclassmen talent our track and field team eagerly anticipated the state meet in Columbia, March 23.

Walt Taylor, pole vault; Dennis Phillips, high and low hurdles; Jerry Fields, mile run; Mike Seura, shot put; and Dave Sperring and Bob Morrison, sprinters; were counted on to rack up points. Ben Sivewright and Chris Langseth, 440 yard run; Gary Guental and Rocky Bron, broad jump; Tom Doyle and Paul Jacoby, discus; and Marion Peach, hop, skip, and jump; also were expected to offer important contributions to the team's success. Actual teamwork was exhibited in the relay races. Combining indoor and outdoor track a total of 23 track meets were planned. Endurance and conditioning were important to maintain top efforts throughout the season.

Coach Cochran, on the up-coming track meets, stated, "The indoor meets were used to screen out the best boys possible for positions on the outdoor track squad." This statement prompted our trackmen to give all out performances.

Ruskin played host to the Ruskin Quadrangular Meet, as well as the Ruskin Invitational, and the Regional IV.

Coaches Clark and Partridge keep things running smoothly at the Ruskin Quadrangular Meet.

Ruskin began its 1968 wrestling season on a strong note, by defeating its first opponent, Raytown South. However, as the season developed it was apparent that this year Ruskin's strength lay in tournament competition. Consistently superior performance on the part of five men, Ed Reidlinger, Reed Shaw, Bob Orton, Glen White, and Larry Reid helped Ruskin take home trophies from the Center, Van Horn, and Ruskin Invitationals. Ruskin also wrestled to a third place finish at the district tourney and in our regional placed fifth among twenty-six schools.

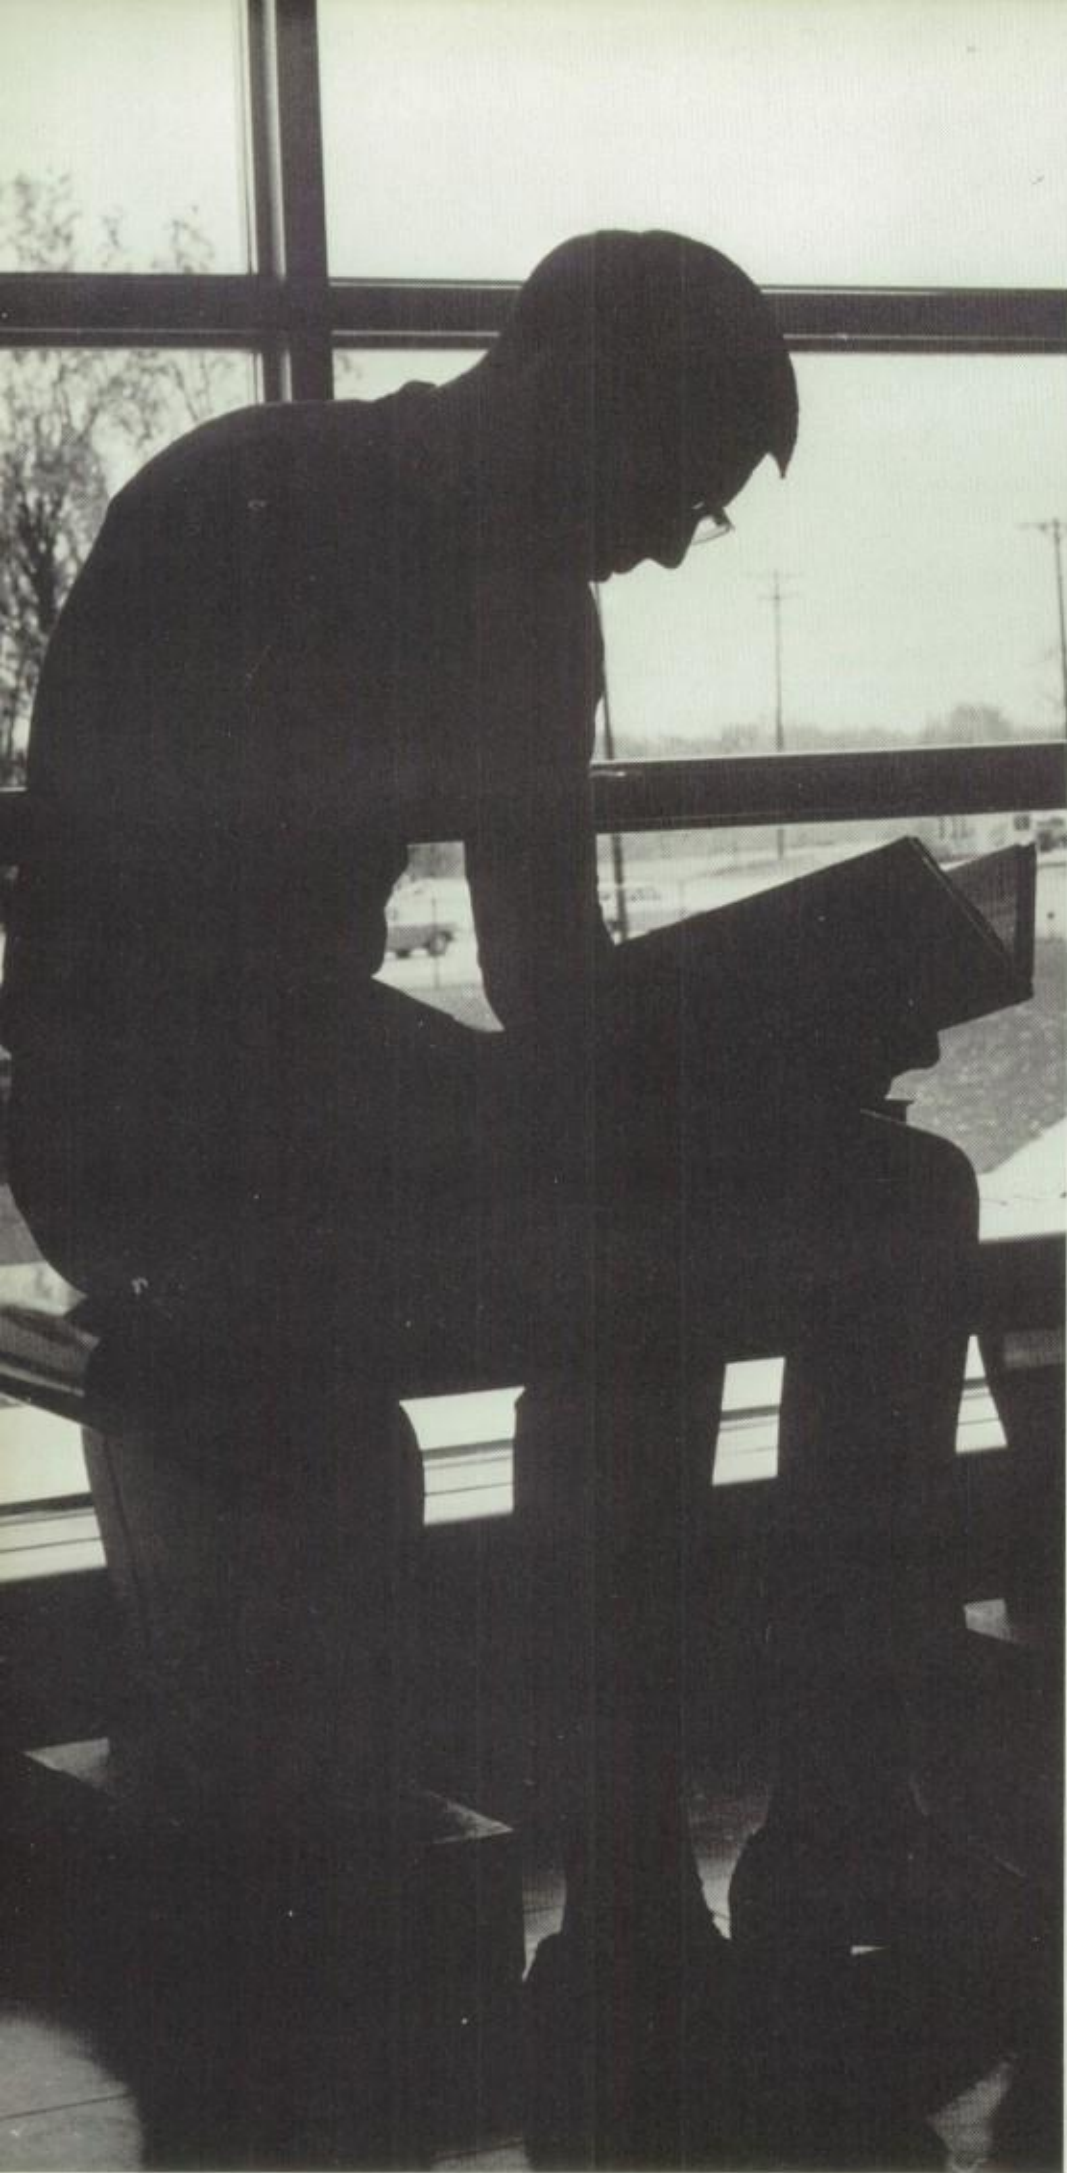

Lettering this year were seniors Ed Reidlinger, Jim Hoey, Reed Shaw, Mark Byers, Bob Orton and Glenn White. The juniors who earned a letter were Rick Kiely, and Ron Reed. Two of these boys, Ed Reidlinger and Bob Orton wrestled their way into the state wrestling tournament, held February 11, at Lee's Summit High School. Ed's fourth place and Bob's second place finish rated Ruskin a ninth place among forty-one schools in the final standings. Reed Shaw, who made the trip to state his junior year, missed this year's tournament due to an injured knee.

In a Word—Sophomore

Bob Lecuyer is enthralled by the microscopic movements of an amoeba.

John Hainworth

John (Jack) Hainworth was killed in a plane crash on May 29, 1967. He, his father, and two other men were on their way to the Indianapolis 500 to be held Memorial Day. There were no survivors. He would have been a sophomore at Ruskin this year.

Sunrise silhouettes Ruskin High School.

Scott- I've enjoyed knowing you this year so much. I really can't begin to tell you, although we have still become great friends. And I'm so glad you've got a fabulous person to match with a sense of humor. Take good care of yourself & let's keep in touch. Love, Patti "69"

Scott- do you wink & smile at all the girls - like you do or just a select few? I've always wondered How was my poem? Oh well - I enjoyed writing it.

This is Courtesy . . . smiling when you feel like frowning . . . waiting when others are unwilling to wait . . . pausing to listen when you do not have time . . . speaking of the good in a person and not the bad . . . overlooking another's shortcomings . . . sparing others your needless complaints . . . being alert to the details important to the other person . . . giving and receiving with equal delight . . . making people whom we meet feel at ease . . . acquiring good manners through petty sacrifices . . . the desire to oblige . . .

SENIORS

As Seniors walk Ruskin's darkened, hallowed halls for the last time, they remember many things about their class. Theirs is the first divided class: half their Freshmen went to Ruskin and half to Baptiste Junior High. Therefore, it is also the last four-year class. For these Seniors it will be a final path, a final word, a final prayer—a graduation into a beginning.

Each year students' eyes are tested by Mrs. Wright, R.N.

Publications is a class designed to teach students journalism, while also producing Ruskin's yearbook the Mirage. A yearbook is a history of the year's events. As editors we have tried to accomplish these goals; we worked toward a year-round record of school events published in a sound journalistic fashion.

The theme of the 1968 Mirage was "Qualities," a degree of excellence we should all try for. Because of the intangible value of "Qualities," we used the "crescendo and decrescendo" to illustrate the theme. In the division page copy we used daily instances to show what, perhaps, indicated "Quality." The Ruskin Crest appears on the front endsheet and the division pages as a symbol of Ruskin High School. Again the Ruskin Crest emphasized "Qualities," for each arrow within the Crest represents a specific trait—Responsibility, Unity, Service, Knowledge, Initiative, and Nobleness of character. When the first letter of each of these "Qualities" are combined they spell Ruskin.

Planning for the 1968 Mirage started as early as January, 1967. We worked on this edition of the Mirage over a year's time. That "perfect idea" was often written down during midnight hours, or a page completed after Ruskin was long abandoned by the daily participants. For a year, we thought, slept, and lived with "our" book.

As this book is finished and is in your, the reader's hands, we must give up our claim of ownership for the 1968 Mirage is now indeed your book. It is our very sincere hope that you like your book, for nothing pleases us more than to have the students accept the product of our work. We cannot hope to please everyone in every instance but we have tried.

Every person who contributed to this book we thank, but we especially wish to thank our sponsor Mrs. Bess Skinner, Mr. Steve Clark, and Mr. Wayne Ackerman; they all contributed extra effort to assist the Mirage staff.
